Luigi Vitelli

America's First Italian Brand Est. 1885

Vitelli Foods is America's premier and oldest importer of Quality Italian Style Foods.

While part of the Vitelli family in Italy was producing canned tomatoes, the New York based Vitelli family was importing those same tomatoes into the United States, creating the first vertically integrated operation in the Italian Food business.

Today's Vitelli is quite different from the Vitelli of 1885 when it served the growing Italian immigrant community in the five boroughs of New York City. Today, products imported by vitelli, including its trademarked Luigi Vitelli products can be found in major supermarket chains and distributors throughout the United States which includes: pasta, tomatoes, and specialty items.
